ABSTRACT

Early in 1969, the Sacramento State College Library began a series of bibliographies designed to aid its patrons in making more effective use of existing library resources. This publication, Number 7 of that series directed specifically to areas involved in the college's developing ethnic studies programs, cites materials published between 1905 and 1969 concerning the Native American. The publications cited are available in the Curriculum Library and the young people's collection of the Sacramento State College Library. Call numbers are indicated, as are broad grade level usages for the fiction and nonfiction books. A total of 58 fiction, 152 nonfiction, 20 textbooks, and 45 curriculum guides is included. "The curriculum guides and textbooks, while usable for kindergarten through grade 8, will be most helpful with the intermediate grades." (LS)

INTRODUCTION

Early in 1969, the Sacramento State College Library began a series of bibliographies designed to aid our patrons to make more effective use of the existing resources of the Library. This publication is Number 7 of that series. A number of publications in the series have been directed specifically to areas involved in the College's developing Ethnic Studies programs. Previous publications have concerned themselves with Chicano, Black, and Asian materials; this is the first publication in the series concerned with Native American materials. It has been compiled by Mrs. Elgie M. Fuson, Curriculum Librarian, to be of assistance to teachers in helping their young students to know the American Indian.

As usual, the Library staff will be most interested in comments and suggestions from users of this publication.

Gordon P. Martin
College Librarian

PREFACE

This bibliography is a selection of materials, concerning the Native American, available in the Curriculum Library and young people's collection of the Sacramento State College Library. It is the hope of the compiler that it will be helpful to adults assisting young people to know the American Indian. Although it reflects holdings as of Fall of 1969, additional materials are constantly being acquired.

Call numbers are indicated in the margin to the left of the entry. Broad grade level usage in the fiction and nonfiction books is indicated in the parenthesis. The curriculum guides and textbooks, while usable for kindergarten through grade eight, will be most helpful with the intermediate grades.

Special thanks are extended to Bonnie Floyd and Sharon Morse who prepared the initial entries and who were meticulous bibliographic checkers. Their continuous effort speeded the compiling of this bibliography. Teresha Taylor typed the master copy.
